

I have known Esra Kellermans for two years now and was very excited that she started her petsitting/dog walking business. I have two dogs that she has cared a couple of different times when we were out of town. She is a very responsible person and truly cares for my dogs. She only contacted us whenever she had a question about our pets. The interview process is thorough, which gave us peace of mind during our time away from home.

I recommend Esra – A Penny for Bones to my friends, co-workers and neighbors. She will take care of you and your pet's needs.
